Ratings and Reviews 4.6 1,432 Ratings 1,432 Ratings Beach_ball_ball , 25/07/2018 Great game I like this game I was bought it in App store not in Google and I like it a lot it is quite addictive I wouldn't say it is hard, the game is a little demanding to get to the next level I have done it for ten levels in the first game and loved it, I also bought the sequel app in Google which I have done twelve of the levels, I got to the last level and just couldn't get to the end, maybe I was a bit impatient but I would recommend this game you can play it on the go, it is great I can fit it in my pocket, I have given it a four star it is good this game should get five stars for not being too hard only being a little challenging, I hope there are more levels. I bought it on the App store and the game is worth it..display-flex { display: -webkit-box; display: -ms-flexbox; display: flex; -webkit-box-align: center; -ms-flex-align: center; align-items: center; -webkit-box-orient: vertical; -webkit-box-direction: normal; -ms-flex-direction: column; flex-direction: column; -webkit-box-pack: center; -ms-flex-pack: center; d41b202975

, marred by horror train crash Published duration 16 May 2018 image copyright EPA image caption The train collided with a freight locomotive at Brushgrove around 7.20am (AEDT) A Melbourne-bound express train has collided with a freight locomotive in NSW, causing a fire and another crash in the process. Five carriages derailed about 7.20am (AEDT) after hitting a freight locomotive and four carriages derailed from the adjacent track, at Brushgrove, north east of Newcastle. Rail operator Metro Trains said the suspected cause of the crash was "being assessed". The head of the Metropolitan Emergency Service said about 70 people were injured. About 100 people were initially taken to hospital - with at least two of those in critical condition. By Sunday afternoon, the number was down to 28. Metropolitan Ambulance Service confirmed that three deaths were reported in the fire. Reports said a man and a child had been found dead by first responders, while a woman died at a hospital. The identity of the individuals has not been confirmed. NSW Police said in a statement a 34-year-old female train driver has died at St George Hospital in Sydney. Three other train drivers, three train conductors and a hospital worker, who had received minor injuries, were taken to the hospital. It is believed a safety inspector who was in the same carriage, but not a train driver, had died. NSW Premier Gladys Berejiklian urged people to "stay calm" in the aftermath of the collision. "Our heart goes out to anyone who has been affected by this incident," she said. "I know people will seek answers, they're going to seek absolution. image copyright 7News image caption Health monitoring was in progress for passengers Metro Trains said the express train from Flinders Street to Sydney Central, travelling at about 130km/h, hit a freight locomotive operating on the local route at Brushgrove. "We're still working to establish the cause of the collision and will confirm once the initial investigation is complete," Metro Trains' Victorian train project director Michael Clamp said. "Train operators in the area are assisting with traffic control and the incident has been cleared from the tracks." A Metro Trains spokesman said the crash was an "extraordinary set of circumstances". A NSW
