Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an optical film having a structure in which a material layer of an optically transparent film is formed on a support film made of a resin. The present invention also relates to a display device including the optical film. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, in the field of display devices, in order to achieve weight reduction and cost reduction, thin display devices with low power consumption have been desired. Furthermore, high-speed display devices have been desired. In order to realize high-speed display, a display device having a long response time is required. As a material for realizing a display device with a long response time, for example, an inorganic material such as an amorphous oxide has been known. As the amorphous oxide, for example, a liquid crystal display device including a liquid crystal layer having a thickness of several μm has been known (for example, see Japanese Patent No. 3943578).Q: Help me understand low voltage alarm circuit Help me understand this low voltage alarm circuit.
