Glomerular filtration rate calculated from a single plasma sample. We determined the glomerular filtration rate (GFR) in 45 patients using a one sample estimate (GFR1) calculated from single plasma creatinine and urea levels. The mean GFR1 was 96.6 ml/min per 1.73 m² +/- 19.5. The mean absolute error (AE) between GFR1 and the 24 hour GFR was 27.4 ml/min per 1.73 m². Nineteen of the patients had two samples within 48 hours after the initial sample. The GFR1 determined from these pairs correlated better with the true 24 hour GFR than did the initial GFR1 (r = 0.92 vs 0.74). The GFR1 calculated from single creatinine and urea levels is an estimate of the 24 hour GFR that will not be biased by either a circadian rhythm or induced diuresis. Q: jQuery script not working inside Tabcontent I'm trying to use bootstrap tabs with my asp.net mvc4 website. My problem is that jquery script is not working inside tabcontent, I can't get the same syntax and content from the loaded html files inside them. I have tried this in the tab with only html content, and that works. @Html.Action("CadastrarNota", "Dissertacao", new { esta_dissertacao = 1 }) and this in the tab with js and content: $(document).ready(function() { $("#tabs").tabs(); }); @Html.Action("CadastrarNota", "Dissertacao", new { esta_dissertacao = 1 })
