The new devices are designed to make the women's blood pressure measurement more convenient, especially for women who take time to get up in the morning. The new digital cuff sensors will be made available in the first quarter of 2014. The company, eChron says it will allow women to measure their blood pressure at their own convenience. Diastolic and Systolic Measurements According to eChron, Women's Health magazine says that women have specific diastolic blood pressure requirements for their ages and health, and they need to get measurements that are easy to read. FDA Approved Devices The company says its new cuff will be a medical-grade, disinfected and sanitized device. The new cuff uses a patented technology in combination with shape-memory strips to give women's blood pressure measurements. The new systolic device uses a variety of materials to create a device that is easy to use, easy to read and comfortable to wear. The company is following the FDA's approval process for the devices by submitting plans for collecting data and the company has plans to hold an advisory panel meeting to review the devices later this year.The County of Honolulu hosted a launch and book reading of the new book, Huliēnā Nāko'o: Inspired by the Spirit of Hawai'i, on Saturday, August 10th. The book featured Jack Rogers, who made history as the first Hawaiian to come back home from a career in sports journalism. Honolulu County Mayor Kirk Caldwell and other dignitaries heard about Jack Rogers' work in sports journalism and his unique perspective on the pressing issues facing the community. They also participated in a special page dedication for the book in Jack's honor. The
