Ten Quick Questions Pro (April-2022)

From the makers of ToDoist comes a new task management app that makes your life easier. Stick it to your calendar, then let it buzz you if you're about to miss an important appointment, and never miss another important task again. This new feature even learns your task management needs so it can get better over time. With a clean and modern interface, a built-in reminder manager and calendar integration, you'll never again miss a thing. Swipe left or right and each task is displayed in a beautiful widget. Unite your tasks in one list with easy drag and drop. Create to-do lists with multiple views: - Folders show all your tasks sorted in sub-categories - a side drawer organizes your tasks by context (today, this week, etc.) - Quick Filters bring up a search box so you can easily find what you're looking for - Other views are available Easily create reminders, assign tasks to yourself, share tasks with other people, and much more Voice reminders work perfectly when you're out of the house Get up to date on your tasks from the lock screen and from your home screen Even if you're on the road, stay in touch with your projects Create unlimited groups of tasks and assign them to yourself, a friend, or a specific context. Stay organized by group Create your own custom groups of tasks. Break them into sub-groups by using as many as 4 customized labels. Keep your projects separated from the rest of your tasks Folders are shared by default. When you select to keep tasks separated, you can still collaborate with others Use any picture as the lock screen wallpaper Add various types of tasks to the background picture Notifications are delivered to you with a timely delivery interval Manage more than 100 tasks in the background Automatically update tasks in real time Task Status: - You can update an entire task, an individual step, or multiple steps of a given task - Tasks with the most recent update will be at the top Task Reminders: - You can set a single-day, weekly, or recurring reminder - You can modify the day or time of a reminder - You can change the method of notification for reminders (visual/audio) - You can choose between a notification sound or a vibration - Your reminders will be stored in a list of quick-access favorites Task Management: - Create a task list
